

June, 2018 Newsletter

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, employment of pharmacists is projected to grow 6% from 2016 to 2026 and demand for pharmacists in hospitals and clinics is also expected to increase. If you're considering pharmacy school, know that the 2018-2019 PharmCAS application cycle opens July 18. The deadline is just around the corner, but fear not; this month's newsletter is focused on helping you take the stress out of the application process.

Questions to Ask Pharmacy Schools

As an applicant, you'll have to answer a lot of questions about your background and why you want to become a pharmacist, but it's equally important that you ask questions. We list some of the must ask questions for your future pharmacy school.

READ MORE

PharmCAS Tips and Tricks

If you're worried about starting your PharmCAS application, review our to have your process go smoothly. From grades to letters of recommendation, we'll help you make sure all of your materials are in order and ready for review.

READ MORE

What Pharmacy School Admissions Offices Wish You Knew

We've got the inside scoop! In this article, Mercer University College of Pharmacy's Director of Admissions, Jordana Berry, shares five things she wishes PharmCAS applicants knew before applying.

READ MORE

Planning a Pharmacy Career Path

Discover how you can make the career move from pharmacy technician to pharmacist. Hear the experiences of a pharmacy student who started with a license and is making their way to a earning their degree.

READ MORE

Pharmaceutical Technology You'll Need to Know

With a growing need for tech-savvy pharmacists, health IT is being interwoven into pharmacy school curricula. Get a head start by learning about e-prescribing, database maintenance and more.

READ MORE